Help make a
CAA School Safety Patrol
pop up in your neighbourhood

Today's lesson:
CAA School Safety Patrol helps keep your children safe.

Start a CAA School Safety Patrol in your neighbourhood.

Join a community of over 100,000 volunteers strong.

Since 1929 CAA has partnered with police, school boards, teachers, parents and a band of student volunteers, to ensure that children remain safe at road crossings and on school buses across the country. Just look at what our volunteers have helped us achieve to date:

- 55 Ontario police services partner with CAA to provide top notch training.
- Over 100,000 elementary student volunteers across Canada participate each year.
- 800 schools across Ontario now participate in the program.
- Over 3.45 million hours are volunteered each year to keep our communities safe.
- More than 80 cases of patrollers saving others from injury have been documented since the program's inception.

Why it's great for your students (11-13 years old):

- Teaches overall road safety and teamwork.
- Develops self-confidence and instills a sense of responsibility.
- Earns respect and recognition from peers, school administrators and community leaders.
- Bus patrollers supervise embarking and disembarking school buses.
- Foot patrollers monitor school crossings on roads and around schools.

Why it's great for your school:

- CAA School Safety Patrol Program has 80+ years of proven experience.
- Protect your school children without relying on your manpower.
- Training materials and program supplies are provided at no cost. Reflective vests are provided for a small fee.
